A "Chestnut" party was given in Boonville last week. It is safe to say that Elitor Plant was "not in it."

Nobody is surprised that there was a woman in the baccarat case. H. R. H. has never been known as a Joseph to any great extent.

"Deane" is a good name, but when Mr. Plant of Boonville, hears it in future, he will remember one occasion when it did not shield a disgraceful episode in his history.

It is strange that the director of the mint should decide to remove the face of the lady which adorns our silver dollar. She has always been very popular and her society is much sought after.

The Republic contained an article yesterday headed "How to shake hands." The best information in this respect may be procured from the sleek candidate for political honors.

Prince Albert Edward, England's future king, is said to be fond of tiger hunting in India. His experiences with the domestic tiger may have been less exciting, but they are just now causing him endless trouble.

St. Louis in her preparations for her fall festivities cannot afford to forego her illuminations. No other feature has in the past met with such popularity. Indeed it is doubtful whether, without the attendant illuminations, the fair and exposition, meritorious as they certainly are, would receive the one-tenth part of the attention they now do.

The Columbia Herald comes with twenty-four pages of matter this week and certainly its claim to being the largest, neatest newspaper ever issued in Central Missouri is well founded. In make-up, it is finished in subject matter, it is excellent and editorially it is able and interesting. It reflects credit upon all connected with it and Columbia in her pride, should not neglect one of its chief auxiliaries to her advancement—the Herald.

James Gibson, one of the brightest and most progressive of the younger members of the western democracy, is being mentioned as the prospective candidate for gubernatorial honors in the next election. Mr. Gibson was the city attorney of Kansas City two terms, also occupied the responsible position of mayor of that city and is now judge of the circuit court of Jackson county. He is capable of filling any office and doubtless would make a good chief executive.

New York doubtless read the accounts of the unveiling of the Grant monument at Galena, Ill., with feelings of envy. But then it is New York's turn to be envious. While a ring of real-estate speculators has been trying to make money out of the proposed Grant monument at Riverside park a Chicago citizen has accomplished what the entire public spirit of New York has been unable to do.

It is a little curious that about the time a big lawsuit is to be tried in which any of Edison's patents are involved, he manages to get himself interviewed and reported at length in the newspapers as to some wonderful new discovery he is said to have made. No one supposes that this effort to attract attention to his marvelous genius is put forth with the view of creating favorable public sentiment or influencing courts, but the coincidence has been remarked. Just now one of the most important, perhaps the most important, of all the cases that have ever been tried in the courts in which Edison is interested, is being heard, and the "Wizard" is out in lengthy talks about the new toy of clever mechanism. Probably no man has ever lived who, in popular esteem, was more versatile in inventions and attracted greater notoriety than Mr. Edison. And yet, among scientists and experts, it is said, there is not an over-amount of confidence in his scientific attainments or knowledge of sound mechanical principles. Some one dubbed him "the man of five hundred patents and not a single invention."

It is to be hoped that the lecture in the interest of the ex-confederate home at Higginsville, which is to be given in this city on the night of the 13th, will be largely attended. The home is not charity, it is justice which has been too long delayed. The confederate soldier who, with no hope of reward save the victory of the cause he represented, went forth to battle and did battle through many years of pain and starvation, and deprivation, and sickness, and wounds, which today leave him helpless is a sacred charge and he should be cared for, just as the federal soldier has been cared for, save that the one belongs to the government, the other to the people, whom they represented as nobly. That these latter understand this there is no doubt and they are nobly responding to the call made upon them, aided and abetted by those who long ago were their foes, but who now remember only that they were soldiers and by their bravery won a right to a haven of rest in their old age—which is lighted by God's lamp of kindness and justice and which else, would be indeed desolate.

FLOWERS AT COMMENCEMENTS.

At this season of the year commencement exercises are taking place all over the land and while the usual amount of really excellent work by the graduates, has not been wanting, yet there is one feature which should be checked before it becomes a public nuisance and that is, the bestowal of flowers.

There is nothing more beautiful on earth than flowers—"God's smiles of tenderness"—but even these may be made to lose their beauty when they are merely used for purposes of display as now carried to extremes at the school commencements.

Not only is the simple tribute of love given but the very evident desire to surpass all others is made manifest in the immense floral pieces and baskets which are so profusely laid at the feet of the graduates. These baskets sometimes contain bananas and other fruit beneath their floral covering and then indeed, the offering becomes grotesque and to the imaginative mind, the graduate presents much the appearance, as she sits surrounded by her trophies, of a market woman surrounded by her wares.

Indeed to a person of taste there is something absolutely disgusting in the manner which is too often used to bring into prominence the daughter or son of wealthy parents and the great contrast of the floral offerings which are laid at the shrine of these and the son or daughter of those in the humbler walks of life. Then too, this contrast works an injustice, which is hard to remedy since the parents can ill afford the expense of an education for their children much less the showy commencement trappings, and feel it, too often, incumbent upon them to buy floral offerings, lest their children be belittled in the eyes of the public.

Certainly there should be something done by the school authorities to put a stop to the floral displays, which have no element of good sense, taste or feeling, in them, but are merely arranged as an adulation which is calculated to reflect credit neither on the bestower of such adulation or the recipient of it.

THE RAILROADS.

The M. K. & T. Stockholders to Assume Control of the Road July 1st.

Leavenworth, K. a., June 6.—Rumors have been rife for several days that the receivership of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas railway company was about to be terminated and the road revert back to the stockholders. Inquiry at the United States circuit court last evening, which is now in session, revealed the fact that no papers had been filed looking to this end, but that Judge Brewer would arrive in this city Monday, when it was probable that the matter would be brought before him.

A reporter called on Receiver George A. Eddy, of the Missouri, Kansas & Texas road, and in reply to a query as to the termination of the receivership of the road, he said: "Yes, it is so. Judge Brewer will arrive here Sunday morning and the matter will be adjusted soon after his arrival. The entire arrangement has been satisfactorily agreed upon and only needs to go through the necessary court formula to complete its force. The road will be handed back to the stockholders, who will assume full control on July 1."

Further Mr. Eddy did not care to talk on the subject.

DEAFNESS CAN'T BE CURED

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever, no cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness, caused by catarrh, that we cannot cure, by taking Hall's Catarrh cure. Send for circular, free.

THE SLATE AT MIDNIGHT.

Yesterday was undoubtedly a very busy day for the police force from the appearance of the slate at midnight last night.

Henry Winkelmeyer got on a "high lonesome" yesterday and proceeded to paint West Main street regardless of the law. After some disturbance he was gathered in by an officer.

Bill Bannon, a natural born tough, made all Main street "hide out" with a gun, yesterday afternoon. He was landed in the station with the charge of disturbing the peace and carrying concealed weapons.

C. S. Moore and John Cross, locked arms and took in the lower part of the city, with a great "jag."

Jim Turley led a heated discussion with a gentleman on Osage street and was duly run in. All will appear before the police judge Monday.

ST. LOUIS' GAY TIME.

ST. LOUIS, JUNE 6.—The corner stone of the new city hall was placed in position, with imposing ceremonies, this afternoon. Mayor Noonan had proclaimed a half-holiday, and all public buildings and many business houses were closed. The exercises were conducted by the Masonic fraternity. The ceremonies began with a salute of artillery by battery A, after which "The Star Spangled Banner" was rendered by a select chorus. The opening address was by Mayor Noonan. He was followed by George E. Walker, E. O. Stanard, and Joseph A. Brodhead. Six musical selections were rendered. The building will cost one million dollars.

STOLEN BY THEIR FATHER.

A New Yorker Kidnaps His Children from Stamford.

Stamford, Conn., June 6.—The wife of William H. Nesbitt, a prominent New York contractor, her two sons, aged two and four years, and her mother. Mrs. Bzier, have been staying at the Stamford House, two weeks past. The Nesbitts formerly resided here. Yesterday evening, while Mrs. Nesbitt and her mother were in New York, Mr. Nesbitt appeared and was shown to his children's room. A few minutes later Landlord Barlow saw a heek driving off. In it were the children, with the father and two men accompanying him, one a detective. They drove out of the State.

The ladies on their return were greatly excited, and denounced Nesbitt as a kidnapper. It has transpired that the wife and children left Nesbitt because he turned his mother-in-law out of his New York house. The two women are in New York looking for Nesbitt and the children. He has sent his wife a dispatch saying they are safe.

Tuesday morning Inspector Barnes received a telegram from Mrs. Nesbitt requesting that the police watch the 8:30 evening train on the New Haven road. The inspector referred the matter to the Twenty-third sub-station at the Grand Central depot. In the evening Mrs. Nesbitt, accompanied by Detective McMinn, watched the train, but the husband with the children did not arrive.

LIKELY TO GO THROUGH.

ARCHBISHOP, June 6.—Governor Humphrey and his family were at the Union depot a short time this morning on their way to Osborn, where they will spend Sunday the guests of State Superintendent of Insurance McBride. Speaking of the probability of Chief Justice Horton's acceptance of the federal position that has been tendered him, Governor Humphrey said that while it had not been definitely settled yet, he had no doubt that Judge Horton would accept. The governor said he was now in correspondence with Senator Plumb, who is in Washington, on the subject, and that there seemed to be nothing in the way of President Harrison delaying the appointment until some time in October, when it will be too late for the governor to issue a proclamation for the election to fill the vacancy that will be caused by the resignation of Judge Horton, thus throwing the election over until November, 1892.

The new court will have to organize and give ninety days notice to the public before it can do any business. Four of the judges can do this, and Judge Horton, the fifth judge, can take his seat in time for the real work of the court. This, the governor intimated, is the programme, and there seems to be no doubt that the president will adopt it.

COMPETING WITH LABOR.

ST. LOUIS, June 6.—Owen Miller, president of the Musicians' Mutual Benefit Association, has written a letter to Redfield Proctor, Secretary of War, asking that the permission given the Jefferson barracks cavalry depot band to furnish the musical programme during the racing season here, be withdrawn. Mr. Miller protests most vigorously against what he calls the government's competition with labor.

—A vegetarian of New York has become a flesh eater since he discovered a scientific law that he had not previously been aware of. He changed his mind upon the diet question, and got convinced that meats were among the proper edibles for mankind after he had been assured by a professor of chemistry that beef, mutton and pork were merely "transformed grass, vegetables and grain." After pondering upon this interesting law of chemical transformation he came to the conclusion that vegetarianism is a doctrine of narrow scope, and he adopted a new dietetic policy, under which he now enjoys tenderloin steaks, lamp chops and fried bacon, not to speak of stewed kidneys, pigs' feet and tête de veau.

A Scrofulous Boy
Running Sores Covered His Body and Head. Bones Affected. Cured by Cuticure Remedies.

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandson began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We poulticed it but all to no purpose. About three months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores formed. He then had two of them on each hand, and as his blood became more and more impure, it took less time for them to break out. A sore came on the chin, beneath the under lip, which was very offensive. His head was one solid swelling, discharging a great deal. This was his condition at twenty-two months old, when I undertook the cure of him, his mother having died when he was a little more than a year old, of consumption (scrofula). He and I were little, but could not get up if he fell down, and could not move when in bed, having no use of his hands. I immediately commenced with the CUTICURE REMEDIES, and a girl friend, one more after another, a boy matter failing in each case, these five deep ones just before hearing, which would not grow home and fall out, then they would heal rapidly. One of these ugly boils and scabs, and restore the hair, cures every disease and humor of the skin and blood from pimples to scrofula.

MAY 9 1885. 612 E. Clay St., Bloomington, Ill.
My grandson remains perfectly well. No sign of scrofula and no sores. Mrs. E. S. BRIGGS.

HE DISAPPEARED.

Springfield, Mo., June 6.—Rich'd Garvin, formerly of the Springfield Republican, disappeared from home yesterday. He was in low spirits and it is feared he may have put himself out of the way. Garvin was under indictment for embezzlement and his case was set for trial in July. He was 22 years old, and has a wife. A search has been begun.
